

HELEN SEGLAH – PHOTOGRAPHY

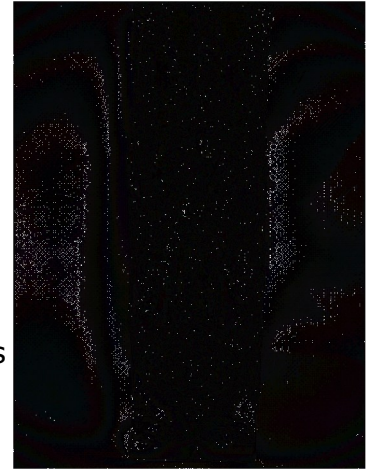

I love creating images that border on reality/surrealism. By taking a little piece of reality and challenging our perspective of what we are looking at. I am currently studying photography at Hertfordshire University which is allowing me to develop my own unique style and develop graphic images that are both dreamlike and abstract.

Imagination is the only limit to our creativity.

ELAINE KELLY—KILN FORMED GLASS

I live on a wide beam canal boat & It is here that I have my studio to draw upon the picturesque beauty of my surroundings which help to inspire my work. I love to work with pastels, acrylic, silk painting, printmaking, photography & sculpture. My work has also been extremely influenced by my extensive travels around the world & the extremes in cultures that I have experienced. I am currently studying kiln formed glass & a Diploma in Ceramics in Hertfordshire based colleges

ANNA JANE KERR— PAINTING

I am a passionate artist and have dedicated much of my life to art. I study and draw on a variety of subject matter but predominantly study and gain inspiration from the human form. I take realistic images and settings and inject surreal and dream like elements into my work.

I work in a variety of mediums, but mainly work in oils. I studied at Middlesex University, specializing in sculpture and fine art, graduating with a BA (hons) degree in 2000. To me art is creative, seductive, always changing and a form of expression.
